Renton City Council to conduct March meetings via teleconference

All committee meetings are cancelled to help prevent the spread of COVID-19

RENTON, WA – The Renton City Council will hold their regular council meetings in March via teleconference to help slow the spread of COVID-19 and in the interest of the safety and welfare of employees and the public.

“Teleconferencing will allow us to conduct the business of the city, while maintaining legislative operations and still continue to be accessible to the public in accordance with law,” said Ruth Pérez, City Council President.

The council is not meeting on Monday, March 30.

The city encourages the public to continue to engage with councilmembers, who along with city staff, will continue to serve the needs of the community.

All Renton City Council meetings are broadcast live on Channel 21 in Renton and available online at rentonwa.gov/21.
