

COVID-19 Update

from Mayor Armondo Pavone

Click to learn more...

Wednesday, April 1, 2020 / Issue: 13

With information regarding COVID-19 continually being updated, I've decided to publish this newsletter to share what we know with the residents of Renton. In each edition our team will bring you the latest updates from around the city as well as information from state and federal officials and agencies.

Google Translation available on website. For additional translation services contact communications@rentonwa.gov.

Who was that man in the mask?

In last week's newsletter, I suggested our readers send us photos or messages to put in with the meals we're providing our seniors. Imagine my surprise when our recreation program coordinator Zach Holm and his family took my request one significant step further.

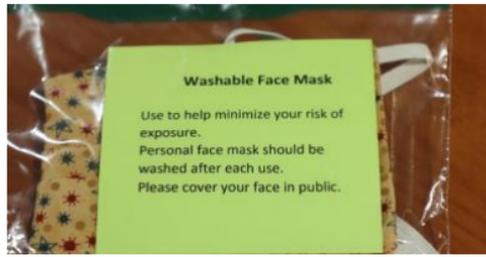

Zach Holm

Earlier today Zach delivered 176 homemade cloth masks to the senior center.

Twenty of the masks are for center staff and the rest will be handed out to seniors along with the lunches.

"We saw the call for items (in the newsletter) and thought it was a good idea," said Zach. "But we thought we could do even better and came up with the idea of making the masks."

Zach and his mom Cindy and dad Peter went to work Friday evening, continuing through the weekend and into Tuesday. By Tuesday afternoon, they had finished 176 masks.

Each senior who picked up a lunch Wednesday was offered a mask, which they accepted with a smile and a "thank you."

The twenty masks for staff were made out of fabric adorned with rubber ducks in homage to the Rubber Ducky Derby, a highlight of our annual Renton River Days celebration. "I thought that was appropriate," Zach laughed.

The project was a labor of love for the Holm family. "We did it for our seniors. We wanted to look out for them and make sure they felt safe in an unsafe time."

For those who do not know him, Zach has worked for the city since he started as lifeguard at age 16 and now manages the aquatics programs at Henry Moses Aquatics Center and Coulon and Kennydale beach parks. He hires the lifeguards and beach staff and is in charge of maintenance.

Zach and his family are a great example of what has been happening in Renton during this pandemic. We've witnessed a community coming together, neighbors taking care of neighbors, and more and more of us patronizing restaurants through to-go and delivery orders. With this community spirit and togetherness I know we will come out of this pandemic stronger than ever.

National Census Day

Today is Census Day. Given all that's been happening our community, the Census may not be at the top of your list. However, it is exactly in times like these that our community needs the resources that an accurate Census count will provide for the next 10 years. If you haven't already, please take 10 minutes to respond to the 10 questions on the Census 2020 survey either online at my2020census.gov, or by calling the Census toll free number 1-844-330-2020.

The response rate for Renton so far is 43.3%; our goal is 100%. Please help to make certain that Renton counts!

Republic Services offers adjustments

Republic Services is offering to adjust service levels for businesses that have forced to close because of the governor's "Stay Home, Stay Safe" order. Residential customers whose garbage service needs may have increased, can easily get a larger container. See more under the Republic Services header.

Inspections - Building and Development Engineering

Community and Economic Development Department (CED) has been receiving questions from homeowners and contractors regarding how the city is interpreting the construction-related provisions of Gov. Inslee's Stay Home, Stay Healthy Proclamation and related guidance issued by the Governor's Office.

- CED has interpreted the Stay Home, Stay Healthy order to deem new residential and commercial construction as non-essential activities, except that construction of public projects (such as public affordable housing projects) and public components of private projects (such as utilities and streets intended for turnover to the city) are essential activities. Furthermore, CED has interpreted the Stay Home, Stay Healthy order to allow construction related to the order's list of essential activities including supply chain for goods, services, and healthcare.
- Under these interpretations, CED will continue its physical inspections associated with the following city-issued permits:
 - Building permits for occupied residential structures necessary to avoid damage or unsafe conditions;
 - Building permits for buildings that are a necessary component of the community's supply chain for goods, services, and healthcare;
 - Engineering permits for facilities intended to be made part of the city's public infrastructure. Such facilities include water, sanitary sewer, and stormwater utilities intended to be transferred to the city at completion and street improvements intended to be transferred to the city at completion.
- Although CED will not be performing physical onsite inspections for new unoccupied homes or other projects not falling into the above list, some inspections can be accomplished virtually. If you are interested in more information about virtual inspections, please contact the Building Division: 425-430-7202.
- These interpretations are valid as of March 30, 2020 under the governor's guidance in effect as of that date. Please note that these interpretations are subject to change as more information becomes available regarding the efforts to contain COVID-19 or if further guidance is issued by the governor's office.
