

COVID-19 Update

from Mayor Armondo Pavone

Friday, April 10, 2020 / Issue: 17

Click to learn more...

With information regarding COVID-19 continually being updated, I've decided to publish this newsletter to share what we know with the residents of Renton. In each edition our team will bring you the latest updates from around the city as well as information from state and federal officials and agencies.

Google Translation available on website. For additional translation services contact communications@rentonwa.gov.

Easter surprise at the senior center

I helped hand out lunches at the Senior Activity Center earlier today. It was great to see the smiles on the faces of our seniors and take a minute to see how they are feeling and adjusting to our new normal.

Community Services staff have done a great job keeping connected with this segment of our population. Today, one dressed as the Easter bunny and another brought homemade signs to welcome the seniors. A third, Donna Eken, made special Easter baskets that were given to those seniors who'd gotten a golden egg in their lunch during the week. The bunny even attracted the attention of a couple youngsters playing across the street, so they came over for a visit.

COVID-19 affecting summer plans

April is when we shift gears at city hall and start to look forward to summer and it's an exciting time. Today, we're still looking forward to summer, but much differently.

Since we started implementing changes to combat COVID-19, I have been adamant that protecting the health of you and your family is my top priority. We have already been forced to cancel our Arbor Day/Earth Day, Spring Green and Clean and Memorial Day events. Canceling these events is as disappointing to us as it is to you. But it is the correct decision to make when taking into account your health and safety. We have yet to make a final decision on the status of our two biggest events, Fourth of July and Renton River Days, which this year includes the Renton Multicultural Festival.

We do not want to leave our residents with no summer experiences. In the upcoming weeks, city staff will be hosting community conversations to learn what is important for you to see and experience. We will have more information on how you can be part of those conversations in coming newsletters. Finally, because our Let's Go Renton! summer recreation brochure will not be published, we will continue to provide updates on programs and events through this newsletter and on our website.

County to use Red Lion Inn as a shelter de-intensification facility

Last week King County Executive Dow Constantine briefed me regarding the county's plans to use the Red Lion Inn on South Grady Way as a de-intensification shelter facility.

It's important for Renton to be a good partner with the county as we work to address the wide-ranging impact of COVID-19. It's also important for us to protect the safety and security of our residents and businesses and not put a strain on our already over-taxed human services programs.

I sent a letter to Executive Constantine indicating our desire to be supportive of the plan but also clearly outlining our expectations of the county when operating the facility. We are in the process of drafting a memorandum of understanding (MOU) with King County that allows them use of the Red Lion. In return we are asking that a security plan and code of conduct for residents be established.

Renton Chamber of Commerce leadership, the business community, Renton police and Renton Regional Fire Authority have been briefed on the plan.

You can be assured I am doing everything in my power to assist the county while at the same time protecting your safety and the resources of our human services providers.

REACH needs your help

The Renton Ecumenical Association of Churches (REACH) meal coalition can use your help. The program's staff and volunteers prepare to-go breakfasts and lunches for our most vulnerable residents. They need the basics: jelly and jam, paper lunch sacks, granola bars, lunch-size bags of chips/crackers, small applesauce, pudding or fruit cups, bottled water, disposable silverware and hand sanitizer. If you're not venturing into grocery stores, a financial donation would be greatly appreciated. In either case, please contact Pattie Holt for more information. Thank you.

UWKC Rental Assistance program

Earlier today United Way of King County announced a one-month rental assistance program for King County residents. Their website has the details and the criteria for qualification.

Work continues

Inspections - Building and Development Engineering

Community and Economic Development Department (CED) has been receiving questions from homeowners and contractors regarding how the city is interpreting the construction-related provisions of Gov. Inslee's Stay Home, Stay Healthy Proclamation and related guidance issued by the Governor's Office.

- CED has interpreted the Stay Home, Stay Healthy order to deem new residential and commercial construction as non-essential activities, except that construction of public projects (such as public affordable housing projects) and public components of private projects (such as utilities and streets intended for turnover to the city) are essential activities. Furthermore, CED has interpreted the Stay Home, Stay Healthy order to allow construction related to the order's list of essential activities including supply chain for goods, services, and healthcare.
- Under these interpretations, CED will continue its physical inspections associated with the following city-issued permits:
 - Building permits for occupied residential structures necessary to avoid damage or unsafe conditions;
 - Building permits for buildings that are a necessary component of the community's supply chain for goods, services, and healthcare;
 - Engineering permits for facilities intended to be made part of the city's public infrastructure. Such facilities include water, sanitary sewer, and stormwater utilities intended to be transferred to the city at completion and street improvements intended to be transferred to the city at completion.
- Although CED will not be performing physical onsite inspections for new unoccupied homes or other projects not falling into the above list, some inspections can be accomplished virtually. If you are interested in more information about virtual inspections, please contact the Building Division: 425-430-7200.
- These interpretations are valid as of March 30, 2020 under the governor's guidance in effect as of that date. Please note that these interpretations are subject to change as more information becomes available regarding the efforts to contain COVID-19 or if further guidance is issued by the governor's office.
